Observations... By the Editor

That game of games, the famous Flea and Fly encounter, which overshadows any bowl game in the country, will take place Sunday afternoon December 3rd. The place St. Stanislaus Stadium; the time 2:00 p. m.; the benefit... The Brother Peter Christmas Tree Fund. This is the 34th Flea and Fly Game. Many great stars of football played in the games of the past, and who knows but the brilliant stars of the game of tomorrow may be in the making among the youngsters who will participate in Sunday's game. It is indeed pleasing to see these many youngsters, inspired to great heights, following many weeks of practice, compete on the football field. Interesting indeed are their many antics—breeches falling down—headgears dropping over their eyes, but the indomitable spirit to win ever prevailing. Yes, they are fighting for the glory of winning, and to add the proceeds of their game to funds which will bring happiness to many a poor child, who otherwise would have an empty Christmas. Isn't this a wonderful Christmas spirit to build into the minds of our youth...

Firebugs are going wild apparently in their desire to burn the woods. This week we are carrying a full page ad signed by L. O. Crosby, Jr., of the Crosby Forest Products in Picayune, Miss., which very forcibly brings to the attention of the people of Pearl River and Hancock Counties the present and future damage being sustained through the burning of the woods. It is time for the people to assert themselves in this most important matter. Forestry is fast becoming the life line of the people of this section. It is one of the most important crops grown and the revenue derived from this source will one day, with proper conservation methods, and the stopping of the practice of burning, become our greatest. We should be interested in our future, and too, those responsible should give some thought to their wanton destruction. Certainly they would not appreciate someone setting their house or other property of value on fire. If this was done, they would probably break their neck to reach the sheriff's office to file charges of arson. Young timber has much property value, and if it is destroyed the owner sustains a great loss, as much perhaps as the man whose home is destroyed by fire. It is time for the people who are interested in the future of our section to start a campaign to rid ourselves of these fire bugs.

Pearl River and the upper part of Hancock County, were not the only spots where fires were rampant last week. Waveland seemed as if it would go up in flames. Smoke and flames billowed for several days from woods fires in this area. These fires endangered many homes of much value. There is little fire protection in our lovely little neighboring city. The only source of aid comes from the Volunteer Fire Department under the guidance of Ed Phillips, and it is our understanding, but for their efforts much property damage would have been sustained. It is dangerous to fire the woods, and certainly some effort should be made to apprehend those responsible. The present draught makes it practically impossible to put out a woods fire once started, and of all times to be careful with your matches and lighted cigarettes is now.

Kentucky will not train on the Mississippi Gulf Coast for their encounter with Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl game. They are going to do their training at Louisiana State University.

The Saint Stanislaus football team has accepted an invitation to participate in the annual Cypress Bowl at Lutecher, Sunday afternoon. The Terrebonne High School of Houma will be the Rockchaw opponent.

Terrebonne High football team is an AA contingent in the Louisiana High School Athletic Association. This year they won nine of ten games played. The only loss was to Catholic High of Baton Rouge, and that by a lone point, 20 to 19.

Stanislaus has won 6, lost two and tied one. The team uses a T-formation, and this year has shown a wonderful reversal of form under Coach Dick Thames who is just completing his first year as head coach.

The Rockchaw line has been great on defense play all season with veterans Luke Caruso, Al Burns, Joe Scafidi, Andrew Scafidi, and Paul Palermo. They have been ably assisted by Frank Witmann, a Pass Christian youngster who tips the beam at 155. Others are Mike Haas, another left-over guard from the previous season, and Joe Kersanac, Maurice Shannon, Don Luc, Pat McCurnin and Bruce Favre.

In the backfield, Jerry Rooney has been one of the outstanding backs in the state. In the last game against Gulf Coast Military he ran his scoring mark up to 86 points for the season. Then there is Bill Hugar from Texas who does most of the punting. His average is better than 40 yards per kick.

Bobby Falgout, Jimmy Holmes, John Caruso, Farrell Gaudet, Gilbert Schmidt, Roger Heitzmann, Monroe Kimball, all backs who have had considerable experience all season and can be counted upon to give a good account of themselves in any competition.

The Rockchaws plan to leave here early Sunday morning for Lutecher. The game is scheduled to get away at 2:15 p. m.

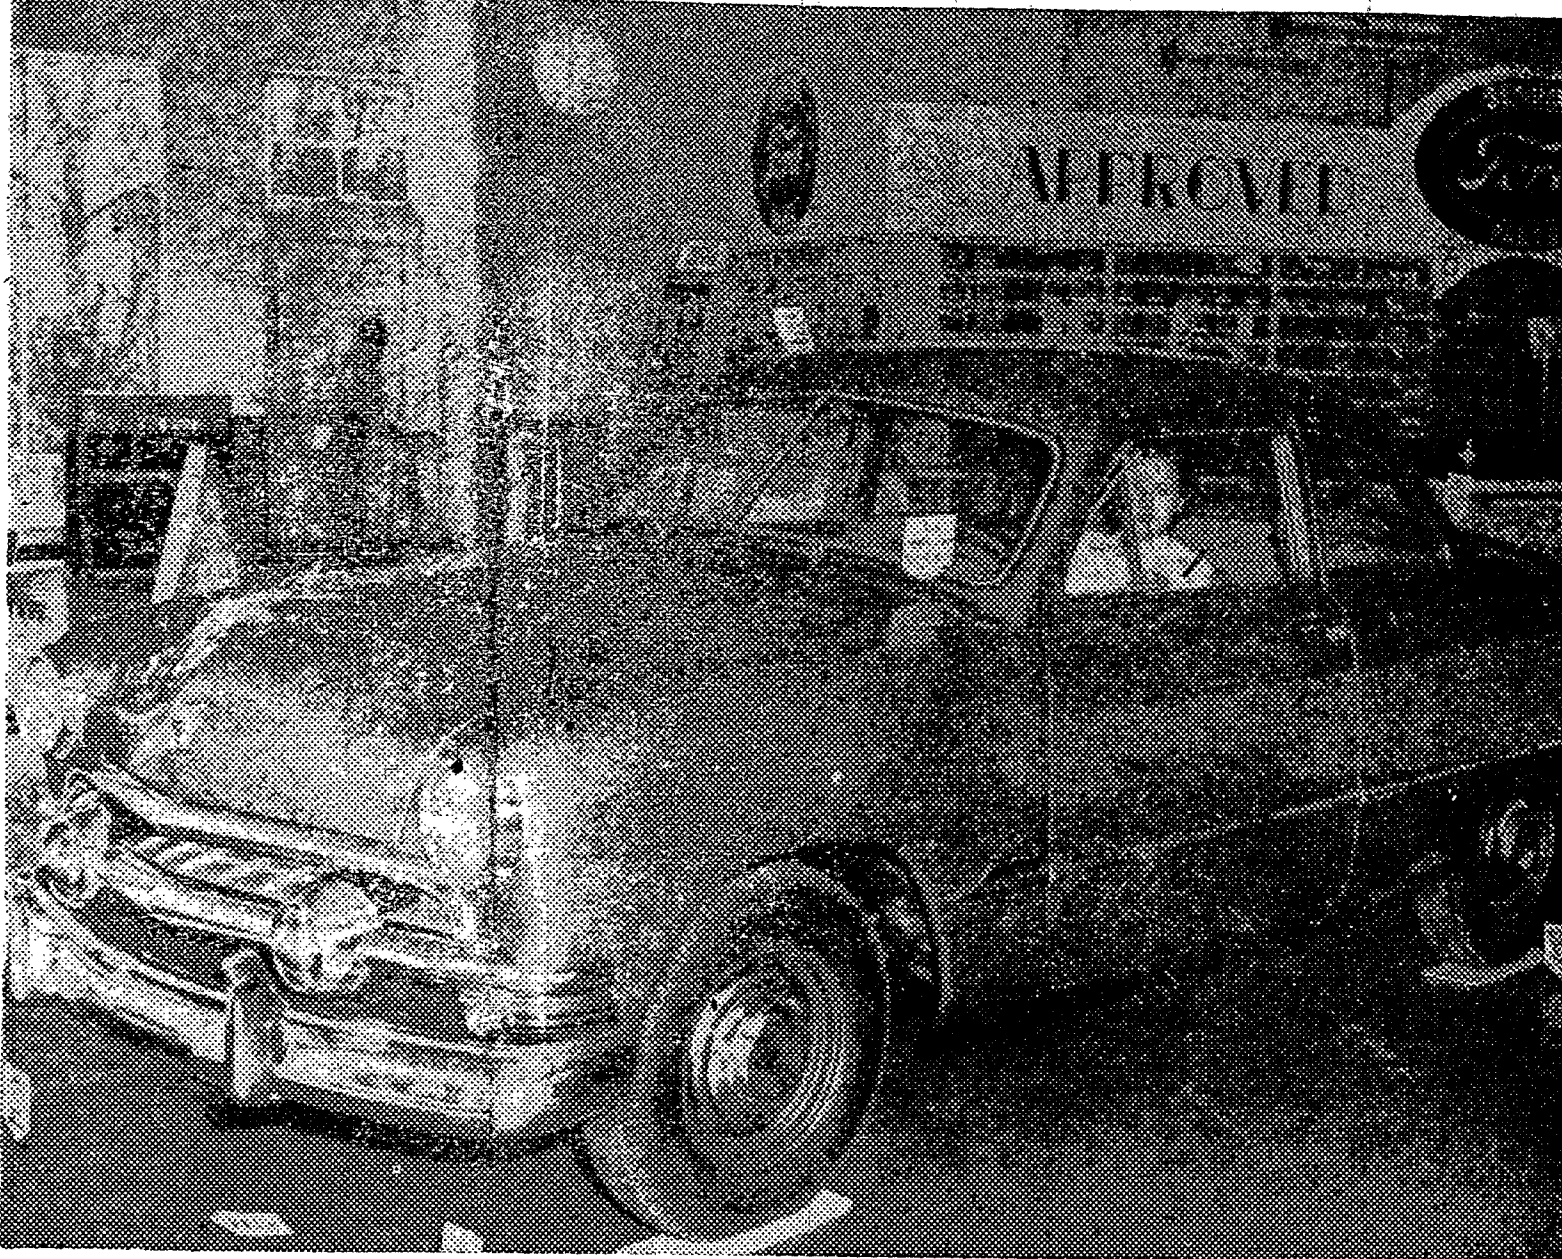

Eucharistic Conference Held Here Wednesday

More than 80 priests and hundreds of out of town guests attended the Eucharistic Conference held here Wednesday. The crowd was one of the largest to ever attend such a conference in this diocese.

The conference opened with a procession of the religious to Our Lady of the Gulf Church. As the Most Reverend Richard O. Gerow, D. D., Bishop of Natchez, approached the door of the church, the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus of the Pere Le Duc Council, who acted as honor guards, formed an arch, with their swords, for the Bishop. After this ceremony, the Solemn Pontifical Mass followed with Bishop Gerow as the celebrant.

The sermon was given by the Reverend Josiah G. Chatham, J. C. D., who spoke on the Blessed Eucharist. At the afternoon services, the sermon was given by the Reverend Jeremiah Harnett of Biloxi. Monsignor A. J. Gmelch presided at the Holy Hour.

Numerous conferences were held throughout the day for both the religious and the laity. Among those giving talks at the lay conferences were Adolphe D'Aquin of Our Lady of the Gulf Parish, Miss Jean Knost of St. Paul's Parish in Pass Christian, Jerry J. O'Keeffe of Nativity Parish in Biloxi, and Mrs. Mary Hoffman of St. Thomas' Parish in Long Beach. General discussions by the audience followed these talks.

Distinctive new styling of both front and rear of the new 1951 Fords is shown in this photo of the Customs Club Coupe. The dual-radiator grills and longer, wrap-around bumpers give the front end a wider, more massive appearance and additional chrome and new tail lights add to the rear end appearance. The 1951 models feature Fordomatic Drive the new automatic transmission, as optional equipment. Carol Carver of the Bay Motors Co. is shown at the wheel of the new model now on display.

The kids have a grand time for the periods they play. The spectators have some good laughs at times. At others they will be amazed and astonished that such mighty-mites can maneuver a ball so skillfully and snag passes with the best of the teams that have ever played on the Stanislaus field. All receipts go to the Brother Peter Memorial Christmas Tree Fund. Almost every year the gate has amounted to some $900.00. It helps materially in the purchase of happiness for deserving youngsters of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County, who will participate in the distribution of toys for the white children December 22 and the colored on December 23.

TO PRESENT TROPHY
Harold B. Weston and his son, John, a former member of the Fleas and Flies, will make the presentation of the award to the winning captain as soon after the last whistle as possible.

Father of Mike Power Dies in New Orleans

Michael S. Power Sr., father of Coach Power of St. Stanislaus College, died at Baptist Hospital November 30, at 1:00 p. m.

The time of the funeral which will be held from the P. J. McMahon Funeral Home on Canal Street Saturday, has not been announced.

Mr. Power, the brother-in-law of Mrs. Edmond F. Fahey Sr. and Jodie Tomasich of Bay St. Louis, is survived by his wife, the former Vivian Tomasich of this city; his sons, Martin Gaynor and Michael S. Power Jr., and a number of other relatives.

Pat Favre To Attend A Large Barbecue At Vancleave On Monday

One of the largest rural meetings in the Mississippi Coast's history has been set for Monday at the Vancleave high school in Jackson County.

The occasion for the celebration will be the presentation of "Tree Farming" certificates and signs to approximately 60 farmers and landowners in Jackson, George, Harrison and Stone counties.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Mississippi Forestry and Chemurgic Association with the International Paper Company acting as host.

One of the highlights will be a monster barbecue with International making plans to feed between 1500 and 2000 guests from the four-county area.

The meeting will be an "open house" with both city and rural folks alike from the entire coast area. Louis and T. H. Dantzier, of International's forestry division, said this week in revealing plans for the huge meeting.

Time of the meeting will be from 10 a. m. until 2 p. m., with the barbecue to be served on the high school grounds or, if the weather is bad, in the school cafeteria.

Principal speaker will be Charles Gillette, president of the American Forest Products Industries, Washington, D. C.

Another feature will be the presentation of a 25-year medallion to Posey Howell, Howison, Miss., "the father of Mississippi forestry." The presentation will be made by Earl Porter, Mobile, manager of International's woodland department.

Presentation of "Tree Farming" certificates and signs will be made by Howell.

Talks and presentations will be made in the school auditorium, seating several hundred persons. A loudspeaker system will be set up, however, for an expected overflow crowd.

The Sheriff's office and the highway patrol will aid in directing traffic and guiding motorists to the scene of the celebration.

Preparation of the barbecue will start Sunday in pits constructed at Vancleave with C. A. Mason preparing beef and pork for the expected 1,500 to 2,000 guests. Potato salad and other trimmings to go with the barbecue will also be served to the guests.

Edward A. Khayat will act as master of ceremonies and the Moss Point high school band will furnish music.

Ann Armstrong, Coffeyville, state forestry queen; Pat Favre, Kiln, her runnerup; and Lois Cox, Jackson County queen, will also attend the meeting.

A petition asking for a new election of Production Marketing Administration committeemen was filed this week, by Ray Stewart, attorney for the petitioners, Otho Rester and Fitzhugh Lee.

ELECTION RESULTS
In an election of committeemen held November 18, the results were as follows:

For the Catahoula, Kiln, Leetown and Bay St. Louis community, Cornelius Favre was elected chairman; Karl Goss, vice-chairman; Cornelius C. Seal, regular member; John S. Rester, first alternate; Clarence Moran, second alternate; Cornelius Seal, delegate; and Forest Lee, alternate delegate.

In the Flat Top - Aaron Academy community election, results named Paul Bounds, chairman; Wilfred Westbrook, vice-chairman; Clark Lee, regular member; Clayford Mitchell, first alternate; Ira B. Lee, second alternate; Paul Bounds, delegate; and Clark Lee, alternate delegate.

Erastus Saucier was elected chairman of the DeDeaux - Sellers community committee; Curvis S. Ladner, vice chairman; Frank Shaw, regular member; Alex Ladner, first alternate; Vertus Ladner, second alternate; Erastus Saucier, delegate; and Curvis S. Ladner, alternate delegate.

DIRECT PMA PROGRAM
All delegates elected attended a county convention for the purpose of selecting the county committeemen. This election was held in Bay St. Louis November 24. The results were: Randolph Seal, chairman; Thomas W. Dossett, vice-chairman; Alfred E. Smith, regular member; E. L. Dossett, second alternate; and Miss Mary E. Favre was named secretary and treasurer. The purpose of the committee is to direct the Production Marketing Administration's program for the year.

The petitioners cite their reasons for a new election in the following petition:

TO THE COUNTY COMMITTEE OF HANCOCK COUNTY PMA:

We, the undersigned, being qualified electors in and for the Catahoula District, for the purpose of electing delegates to the PMA convention for Hancock County, Mississippi, do hereby file this as a protest against the election of all candidates who purportedly received a majority of the votes cast in the Catahoula District on the 18th day of November, 1950, to assign as reasons therefor the following, to-wit:

1. That a representative group of the farmers and others qualified to vote did not cast their votes in said election, in that large numbers of said electors were approached and actually cast their ballots away from the designated polling place.

2. That said election was not held at a designated time or designated place as provided by the rules of the said PMA, and that people cast their ballots as much as 12 to 14 hours prior to the opening of the polls and at no designated point or place. That great numbers of the farmers and other persons qualified to vote in said election were approached by Thomas Dossett, one of the county committeemen, who was carrying the ballot box over the community on the night before and in the early morning hours of the day of the election. That the said Thomas Dossett, one of the committeemen, not even an election manager, had possession of the ballot box and was attempting to use influence upon the electors to cast their ballots for one Cornelius Seal as delegate from said Catahoula District. That many persons did actually cast their ballots away from the said polling places and others were approached to do so, but refused. That as a substantiation or proof of this allegation, affidavits of Charlie L. Lee, Cullen S. Lee, John L. Baker, Lewis C. Lee, Carson R. Lee, and David W. Baker are attached to this instrument and made a part thereof; and if said convention holds an oral hearing on this protest, additional oral proof can and will be presented at that time.

3. That those offering to vote on the day of the election at the designated polling place were not presented with the proper register setting forth the names of the qualified electors, and did not sign their names opposite their typed names as provided by the rules and regulations, but were presented a blank sheet of paper upon which to sign their names. That this is a violation of the rules and regulations of the PMA.

4. That the undersigned challenge the validity of the entire election of both the local committee and the delegate to the county convention, upon the grounds as set out above. That said election was held in violation of the rules and regulations of the PMA.

THE CHEAPEST INSURANCE

These are serious times for the young people of this country; far more serious than any which have faced the youth of our nation heretofore. The gradual trend to socialism which may eventually lead to communism stares them in the face.

Idle minds and bodies among young people become fruitful spots for juvenile delinquency, and then on into the many "isms" of the day. We are particularly fortunate in Bay St. Louis, in so far as the young people are concerned. Delinquency is negligible. The influence for good among our boys and girls has been outstanding, and of course is attributable to many factors. The home life, associates, the work of adults particularly in establishing a Youth Center and the organization of the Teen-age Club have been a most stimulating influence.

The Youth Center today stands out as the most needed project in Bay St. Louis. It is the best and the cheapest insurance we can have against juvenile delinquency. There we have a supervised recreation program for our boys and girls, but the program is far from adequate. It lacks financial support, and if this could be secured we are sure it will in time render an even more valuable service to our boys and girls.

The greatest investment any community can make is in its boys and girls, and certainly there should be no objection of the part of anyone for the City and the County to invest a small amount of tax money in them. The program for the Youth Center should be supported at least in part from public funds. Many cities throughout the country have public financed recreation departments. At the present time the Youth Center must rely upon the generosity of a few public spirited citizens for its existence. Of course public financing of this program cannot be brought about overnight. It may be necessary to have legislation passed for this purpose. In the meantime the work at the youth center must go on.

The needs are many—a pool table, tennis court, television set and, we could go on and on. Will it be possible to get these items for the Teen-agers? You have the answer to the question. It takes money to make them possible. Will you help the cause? Every penny contributed by the people of Bay St. Louis will bring the Center nearer and nearer to the goal of being a real recreation spot for our boys and girls.

The youngsters are working hard and they are grateful for the aid they have received in the past. They are presently sponsoring a project to help those less fortunate than themselves at Christmas Time, carrying on a campaign for broken toys and used toys that they can repair and distribute to the poor children of the community.

We should take pride in the accomplishments of our Teen-agers, but we should not forget, the burden of financing rests with us, and if the program is to succeed it must receive the untiring support of everyone in the community.

Teen-Agers enjoy the music of Gluck's Jazz Band at the Harvest Ball given at the Youth Center last week.

Dr. Fountain Has 79th Birthday

By JAY METZ

On Sunday, Logtown's number one citizen, Dr. Calvin Fountain, celebrated his birthday with the traditional birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Arendale of Hattiesburg, son-in-law and daughter of Dr. Fountain, were present to help celebrate the happy occasion. Others who dropped in to pay their respects were Mrs. Harry Baxter, Austin Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Otis, Miss Jennie Otis, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Geyer of Gulfport and Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Urie of Gulfport.

On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Despane and daughter, Sharon, of Houston, Texas, stopped by to congratulate Dr. Cal and to wish him well. Next year at this time Dr. Fountain will join that famous and select group called octogenarians.

A wedding claiming interest here was that of Miss Betty June Moran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Moran of Logtown, and Kenneth Parvin, son of Mrs. S. A. Parvin and the late Mr. Parvin of Gulfport. They were married Sunday afternoon, November 26, at the home of the bride's parents.

Before an improvised altar where baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums were arranged against a background of lighted cathedral tapers and trailing ivy, Rev. C. B. Thompson, pastor of the Logtown Baptist church, read the double ring ceremony.

The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a navy blue wool suit with pink and navy accessories and carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

The only attendant to the bride was her sister, Miss Helen Ruth Moran, and Glen A. Kirkpatrick of Gulfport acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held. Masses of white flowers arranged with fern were used to decorate the loggia.

The four-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, rested in the center of the table.

After the couple cut the first slice, Mrs. G. O. Kerr of Jackson, aunt of the bride, and Miss Faye Rouchin, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Hermon Jones and Miss Thelma Rouchin presided at the punch bowl.

Upon their return from a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Parvin will make their home in Gulfport.

The bride is a graduate of Bay St. Louis High School in the class of 1949, and is associated with the Marinello Beauty Shop.

Mr. Parvin was graduated from Gulfport High in the class of '48. He is connected with the A and P Food Store.

Do You Have A Maid?

Beginning January 1, 1951, household workers, such as maids, cooks, laundresses, gardeners, chauffeurs, etc., will be covered by Social Security; but that does not mean that housewives will be burdened with a tiresome bookkeeping chore.

A simple, easy system has been devised to assist milady in making the necessary reports. If she employs a domestic worker, the first step is to obtain a copy of the little booklet entitled, "Do You Have A Maid?" This booklet may be obtained from the Social Security Office, Sailoum Building, Gulfport, Miss. It explains in easy language how to determine if a particular household worker is covered. If the booklet tells milady that her help is covered, the next step is to tear off the last page of the booklet, fill in the blanks, and mail it to the Collector of Internal Revenue, Jackson, Miss.

The Collector of Internal Revenue will send the housewife a simple form in the shape of an envelope. This form has spaces for the housewife's name and address, the worker's names and Social Security numbers, the amount of tax for the worker, and the total amount of tax.

All milady has to do is to keep account of how much CASH she pays her help, and, every three months, fill out the envelope form, enclose a check for the taxes, and mail it to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

NOTED ARTISTS MOVE TO BAY

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Kronengold, nationally known artists, are new residents in the Bay St. Louis area. Previous to coming here, the Kronengolds resided in Alaska.

These two artists are listed among "Who's Who in American Art," and were well known in New York art circles before going to Alaska. Kronengold, a native of New Orleans, said that he left New York so that he could get away from commercial art.

Mrs. Kronengold said that she had almost decided that the most beautiful skies in the world were those in Alaska until she saw the skies over the Bay of St. Louis at sunset.

The Kronengolds opened the first art school in Alaska; and during the three years that they were there, they taught over 400 students. They plan to open art schools here and in Gulfport. Prior to opening the two schools, the Kronengolds plan to hold several exhibits here.

With the Federal Government running in the red, the threat of higher taxes casts a lengthening shadow across our financial future. Despite the November vote, registered in favor of economy in government, President Harry Truman insists on a substantial increase in taxes.

Public servants who promote higher taxes work on the wrong end of our National economy. It is the spending end of government that needs attention. If government were as efficient in spending the people's money as it is in collecting it, we would have no serious problem in federal finance.

United States Senator Byrd of Virginia says the next Congress can slash the federal budget $7,000,000,000 without serious consequences either to our national defense or domestic economy. And that if we fail to do it the people's tax burden will have to be doubled to balance the federal budget. The Senator says if we fail to curtail our public spending we are headed for national bankruptcy.

The graveyard of history is filled with the dust of once proud and prosperous peoples who spent themselves into destruction. They never learned how much more important it is to know how to spend money than how to collect it. Just as the individual who lives beyond his means is on his way to destitution, a nation that squanders the people's substance commits financial suicide. Tinkering with the national currency, manipulating the purchasing power of the dollar, promoting inflation, will not save the government nor spare the people from inevitable poverty.

Only the tax-payers of the land can stay the hand of a spendthrift government. They alone can prevail upon their representatives in Washington to practice that same thrift in public expenditure that they expect of constituents in private, who are urged to spend less and buy Federal Savings Bonds.

The average American family would be having no financial problems today were it not for the Withholding Tax that the Federal Government takes for keeps out of the wages of its workers.

What a Thanksgiving it could have been, what a Merry Christmas it could be if the people could spend more of the money they earn, but are now forced to turn over to the prodigal sons of Uncle Sam. There is no issue before the American people equal in importance to economy in government.

Tung Bowl To Be Held In Picayune

Picayune—The Fifth Annual Tung Bowl unfolds its colorful pages on Friday night in Picayune Memorial Stadium, with two evenly matched, top ranking high school football teams featured.

Upward to 5,000 fans will see Tybertown and Destrehan, La. square off in the football feature at 8:00 p. m. Tung Bowl officials this week predicted it would be the largest crowd to witness a football game in Picayune.

But, even though indications pointed to a record crowd, there will be plenty of tickets on sale at Memorial Stadium ticket window. A. W. Stockstill, Tung Bowl chairman, reported.

Along with the football feature, the colorful Tung Queen pageant will be staged before kickoff time. Twenty lovely young ladies from Picayune Memorial High School were entered in the Tung Queen contest which closed Thursday. The Tung Queen will be presented Friday night, along with 12 maids.

The two featured teams are evenly matched in weights, records, and point making. Tybertown's starting lineup will average 166 pounds, while Destrehan's starters will average 162 pounds. The Blue Devils of Tybertown scored 212 points this season against 77 for their opposition. Destrehan's Wildcats tallied 231 points against 103 for the opposition.

Destrehan, defending Louisiana Class A Champions, brings a record of eight wins, three losses in 1950 play to the Tung Bowl. Tybertown won nine, lost one during the regular season. Included among Blue Devil victims were Columbia, Gulfport and Hazlehurst.

Mrs. Cyril Glover is spending a few days in New Orleans at the home of her parents. She is visiting her son, Larry Young, Army Air Force, who is on a short leave; he is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thriffley.

November 28, 1950

To The Citizens of Pearl River and Hancock Counties:

The wanton destruction that came about yesterday through the wilful burning of the woods by arsonists is a disgrace. All the fire fighting crews employed by Pearl River County as well as crews employed by our Company were hard at work, but the arsonists were setting the fires faster than they could be controlled. Wide areas of planted trees and second growth, young timber were completely destroyed.

We wish to make our stand known to the people of this section. Unless we receive better cooperation in the suppression of fires, we must come to the realization that it is impossible to carry on a forestry program in this area. This will mean that our woodworking plants will have a much shorter life and that the long range program that we have planned will have to be terminated.

Many thousands of dollars worth of property were destroyed yesterday alone by these contemptible arsonists. We have our Chambers of Commerce, civic clubs and other organizations always working for new industries to come into this area. Is it not time for all the people to decide whether they want the industries that are now here to continue to operate? Your woodworking industries in this area are by far your greatest employment factor and have an opportunity of being so for all years to come if this wanton destruction can be stopped.

Our Company has been hard pressed in paying the heavy tax load on cut-over lands coupled with the expense of planting trees, plowing fire lines and patrolling our woods. It is a physical impossibility to completely control the area, and the only way our program can be carried out is by the full cooperation of the people. If they will give us full law enforcement in the apprehension and conviction to the full extent of the law in the handling of the contemptible arsonists who have no regard for the rights of others, then we will have a chance to carry out a program. It is up to the people of this area to demand that all law enforcement agencies protect the interest of all the people according to their constitutional rights. What do you want, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen, charred, burned-over waste lands with ghost cities or an abundant forest with thriving cities? It is up to you and you alone.

Very Truly Yours,
CROSBY FOREST PRODUCTS CO.

But Do You Really UNDERSTAND the Bible?

Many people maintain that the Bible is so simple and clear that anyone can understand it.

Yet today the Christian world is divided into conflicting opinions as to what the Bible means. Sincere and equally learned Bible scholars take different meanings from the same words, and there are many Christian sects which disagree on basic Bible questions.

The average Christian who wants to understand the Bible, finds all this confusing... wondering which interpretation to accept, whom to believe. The result is that the Bible often gathers dust on the family bookshelf, when it should be bringing joy to the hearts of men.

Catholics, of course, join with Christians everywhere in recognizing the complete Bible as the inspired Word of God. It could not be otherwise, for it was the Catholic Church which assembled the books of the Bible nearly 1600 years ago, and which preserved its precious message on parchment for a thousand years before the invention of the printing press.

It is unfortunate, however, that some of the most devoted Bible readers do not understand it. As a matter of fact, Holy Scripture is seldom correctly understood unless we have certain preliminary knowledge concerning God's revealed truth.

In writing the New Testament, its authors took into account that a knowledge of God's revelation already prevailed. The books they wrote were intended to instruct and confirm teachings already known—not to announce something entirely unknown. When you have this preliminary knowledge, the Bible is neither contradictory nor confusing.

The books of the Bible were given by God through writers who addressed themselves to people who already possessed faith in God and to whom the divinely revealed message was, to some extent, already known. These books seek to explain and confirm this message, and to induce readers to conform their lives to it. They were certainly not intended to teach all of God's revealed truth to those who were learning it for the first time.

The Bible, properly understood, can exert a tremendous power for good in your personal and family life. But to understand it, you should know something about those who wrote the Bible... the way they thought, spoke and the characteristics of the language they used. By whom was the Bible translated... how can we know these translations are correct? What are the common sense rules to be followed in understanding the Bible? These and other important questions concerning the intelligent use of the Bible are answered in a pamphlet which we will send you free on request. Write TODAY for your free copy. TOGS from TREES

Of 975 million pounds of rayon produced in a single year, 809 million pounds were made from wood pulp.

Yes, it's true. Fabrics used in making dresses, umbrellas, raincoats, and hundreds of other articles of clothing are made from wood, through chemistry. Three-fourths of all our rayon comes from trees.

Each year science finds more and more ways to use raw materials produced in this nation's forests. Each new discovery, each new product spells better living. To supply the raw material we must grow more trees. You can do your part by keeping fire out of our forests.

Prepare Farm Machinery Now; Save Time Later On

By HOWARD SIMMONS

Shop work now on farm machinery may save valuable time in field work next spring. Make an early order list of all broken, worn out and lost parts, then order by number through the local manufacturer's dealer. Adjustments, replacements and repainting can follow in sequence before seed bed preparation time.

In planning this work, it is well to keep in mind that land preparation tools are used first, followed by planters and seeders, cultivators and harvesters.

Rubber tires which are now used on most tractors and many farm machines, should be protected. Keep tires free from chemicals, fertilizers, excess heat, oils and underinflation. On stored equipment, have the weight supported by forms, jacks or stands, with tires deflated and free of the floor or ground. Tires filled with water should be drained before freezing weather, for a reliable non-freezing solution should be added.

Rust is a great destroyer of machines. Metals should be kept free of rust and corrosion by keeping dry or by covering to exclude moisture.

If the original protective paint, varnish or other coating is broken or removed by wear, replace or use rust preventive. Rust preventatives are oils and greases which maintain a film to keep out air and moisture.

CATTLE LICE

Control cattle lice if this has not already been done this season.

Many materials are available to kill lice, but it is best to use dusts during cold weather. Sprays, washes and dips can be used on warm days during the winter.

On cows being milked, use a spray or wash of one-half pound of 25 percent wettable lindane wettable powder to each 50 gallons of water, or one cupful to three gallons of water.

Methoxychlor spray, wash or dip can be used on milk cows, mixing four pounds of 50 percent wettable powder to each 50 gallons of water, or one cupful to three gallons of water.

To dust cows being milked, use rotenone either the three-fourths or one-half and one-fourth percent. Apply with a garden duster, a fruit jar with holes in the top, or a cotton duster. Make the second dusting 17 to 18 days after the first one.

On beef or other cattle not being milked, use either benzene hexachloride, lindane, toxaphene, DDT or methoxychlor. One treatment is usually enough.

A benzene hexachloride spray is made by mixing two pounds of six percent gamma benzene hexachloride to 50 gallons of water, or three-fourths cupful to each three gallons of water. With toxaphene, mix one-half gallon of four pound toxaphene emulsion to each 50 gallons of water. DDT spray is four pounds of 50 percent DDT to each 50 gallons of water.

For dusting beef cattle to kill lice use the "3-5" cotton dust, which is three percent benzene hexachloride and five percent DDT.

Do not dip calves under three months old in benzene hexachloride or toxaphene.

Agricultural Day Is Set For Dec. 12

Governor Fielding L. Wright has set December 12, as Agricultural Production Achievement Day. This will be a "big day" for adult farmers, F. F. A. members and veteran farm trainees throughout the state. It will be an especially "big day" for those who participated in making high yields of cotton, corn, pasture, beef, pasture dairy, and who used sound forestry practices.

This statewide $10,000 prize program is jointly sponsored by the Vocational Agricultural Education Department, State Department of Education and the Clarion Ledger.

A. P. Fatherree, State Supervisor, Vocational Agricultural Education, stated that a progress report from agriculture and veteran teachers over the state has indicated around 35,000 vocational students are participating in this huge 1950 Farm Production Achievement program. These records show 20,485 in corn, 10,825 in cotton, 2,640 in pasture, and 1,150 in forestry work.

"The 1950 program is designed to promote greater efficiency in the production of cotton, corn, pastures, and timber," Fatherree said. Last year similar program was held in Jackson to honor those who participated in high corn production. About 3,000 Mississippi Farmers were on hand for the 1949 Corn Achievement Day. This year approximately 10,000 farmers are expected to be in Jackson on December 12.

A county committee composed of vocational agriculture teachers and veteran instructors in each county will select county winners, which will be submitted to district supervisors. The district supervisors will then select district winners to be submitted to the state supervisor of vocational agriculture. The district winners will be tabulated by November 25. Overall state winners will be selected by December 8.

Four Ford tractors will be awarded to high producers - one tractor each for the "top" producer of one of the following: One acre of corn, one acre of cotton, beef per acre, and milk per acre. Certificates will be awarded those students who meet set forestry practices.

Special awards to be given for milk production by Kraft Cheese Company F. F. A. contestants include: $75, $50, and $25 for first, second, and third respectively in the dairy pasture division. All certificates of achievement in the 1950 program will bear the signature of Governor Fielding L. Wright and the State Superintendent of Education. These certificates will be awarded adult farmers, veteran trainees, and F. F. A. members in the contest who meet set standards.

No Limit On Army Enlistments

Lt. Colonel Herbert P. McGehee, deputy for the Army and Air Force Recruiting Service of Mississippi, has announced that there is no limit on the number of enlistments that may be made in the Air Force for the duration of this month.

To young Americans who want to prepare themselves for good jobs or lifetime careers in aviation, the U. S. Air Force offers opportunities unequalled anywhere else in the world.

"Young men between the ages of 17 and 34 who are thinking about a good job, their future, or a lifetime career, should not fail to look into the field of aviation. The U. S. Air Force Technical Training Schools train men in the hundreds of special skills vital to the operation of military and commercial aviation. No other enterprise will train you so thoroughly in the field of your own choice and pay you so well for taking that training," the Colonel stated.

No single factor can mean so much to the peace of this nation and to the world as an America strong in the air. The U. S. Air Force is now engaged in creating that strength which offers many career opportunities to young Americans. A thrilling and challenging future awaits those who take advantage of the opportunities offered by the Air Force. For complete details, at no obligation, see S/Sgt. B. B. Xmas Leftovers Will Turn Into Gold

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

It's the first of December—just three weeks' till Christmas. Most of us are in a buzz completing Christmas shopping, gifts we're making, plans for the holidays and special dishes and goodies during these three weeks.

Here's a few ideas to tuck away for use after Christmas dinner and the days after the feasting and excitement.

Don't be a miser, but you can gloat over every morsel of food that's left. It is just that much gold when it comes to the preparation of future meals. Just think of the energy and time it will save you.

First, take good care of the cooked foods. Let them cool slowly at room temperature after loosely covering them with wax paper. Next, put them away in the refrigerator.

It is best to use airtight bags to store meats. You can slide your meat, still on the platter, into the bag and give the end a good twist. Now tuck it under the platter as you place it in the refrigerator.

As to vegetables, they must be stored in tightly covered containers. Don't plan to reheat those vegetables; no, and don't mix them with fresh ones either! Try using them in a salad. With a tasty dressing you'll be surprised how peppy they are.

Another way to use your leftover vegetables is in soups. Make use of chicken or beef broth for a foundation, or, maybe milk or cream will work out well for certain occasions. If you have a spinach-eating family, you can make a good soup of left-over spinach with cream as a base. Give it zest with chipped-up green onions or some other flavoring.

Turkey is always in our minds at Christmas time. Roasted and carved it provides a handsome feast; then with plenty of choice meat still remaining, it supplies the bag for midnight snacks, cold meat trays and endless left-over delicacies, as turkey pie, turkey hash, in croquettes and in casserole dishes.

Try this recipe for making Turkey Pie.

TURKEY PIE
4 small onions
4 small carrots, cut in thick slices
3 medium potatoes, cut in eight

1 cup celery, cut in large pieces
2 cups turkey stock, milk or cream
3 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1/8 teaspoon thyme
1/8 teaspoon curry powder
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Pastry dough for crust.

Cook vegetables until almost tender. Put turkey and vegetables into a 2-quart casserole. Melt butter; add flour, thyme, curry powder, salt and pepper; cook about one minute. Pour sauce over turkey and vegetables. Make turkey cut-outs from pastry dough and arrange on top of pie, or roll pastry dough 1/4 inch larger than top of casserole.

Center dough on the pie, turn edges of pastry under, pressing against the side of the dish firmly. Flute edges of dough. Prick crust to allow steam to escape. Brush cream or slightly beaten egg white on top of nice glaze. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) about 15 minutes, or until crust is golden brown.

—Mrs. Josie Olsen spent Thanksgiving with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Vandevender in Meridian.

Ensign and Mrs. Roger Boh, Jr. spent Thanksgiving at the home of his parents on North Beach boulevard. The couple were on their way from Corpus Christi, Texas to Pensacola, where Ensign Boh will be stationed.

—Mrs. Randolph Bourgeois, Sr. spent the past weekend in Beaumont, Texas, visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Bourgeois, Jr. On her return trip Mrs. Bourgeois brought her grandson, Wayne, home where he will remain until Christmas.

Lumpkin Announces For Governor

Jackson—Nov. 30—Sam Lumpkin, present Lieutenant Governor and acting Governor, today announced his candidacy for Governor of Mississippi subject to the will of the Democratic voters in the August 1951 primaries. His statement follows:

To My Fellow Citizens: "It has been my ambition to serve this state as its Governor and in formally announcing my candidacy I do so fully appreciative of the importance and magnitude of the office and the tremendous responsibilities which will be required of me when elected."

My introduction to state government was in January 1932 in the midst of the worst depression and panic the nation has ever experienced. Those of us who experienced those days had the responsibility of rehabilitating the good name and credit of Mississippi. I had a part in the passage of Mississippi's sound financial and budgetary system which is in operation today. In 1936 Fielding L. Wright, then chairman of the Highway Committee, designated me as a member of the subcommittee to draft the highway program. I helped formulate and pass the present highway system and since that time we have improved on the system at each session of the Legislature. In 1940 as Speaker of the House of Representatives, I helped put into operation the great humanitarian program of the Johnson administration. For 20 years I have insisted on adequate hospitalization for the poor people of Mississippi, better educational facilities for both races. I have worked and supported the program for the conservation of our natural resources. I introduced and sponsored the promotion of rural electrification. I have championed the cause of Junior colleges and vocational education, pioneered and fought for increased old age assistance. Mississippi, in the last 20 years has made great progress, but we must be perfectly honest and admit that we still have a long way to go. We must continue to attract industrial payrolls and offer a favorable attitude to new and present industry. We cannot escape the cold fact that during the last three decades Mississippi has continued to lose her rural population. Mississippi cannot move forward unless we retain inside her boundaries a people sufficient to maintain a strong buying power and to sustain a high level of economy.

and a higher standard of living. State government must give aid and encouragement in rebuilding rural Mississippi by making farm life more attractive and more profitable. Rural power lines and telephone lines and other necessities must be carried to the rural communities. We must not let the life blood of this state be drained away to other centers. The rural communities of America are the last major remaining obstruction in the paths of those who would lead America into the economic twilight of a socialistic state.

I could fill columns with all the things that I will attempt to do for my state and its people if you honor me with election as your next governor, but I feel that all of our best intentions could be for naught if we should be led by the nose back into the camp of Harry S. Truman and sold down the river to our enemies—the big city bosses, and the socialistic scoundrels who would do away with all states' Rights and constitutional government.

I want every Democratic man and woman in Mississippi to know exactly where I stand with reference to our national political problem.

I am a Jeffersonian, States' Rights Democrat. I have always believed in and will always believe in and fight for the principles of Jeffersonian Democracy—States' Rights, Constitutional government and individual liberty. I know that home rule is the best rule on earth and I shall always fight with every ounce of my energy the invasion of our state and local governments.

One of the first decisions the next governor of Mississippi will have to make is the position he will take on the States' Rights issue. I think the people of Mississippi are entitled to know where I stand on this important matter. If the National Democratic Convention, insults and humiliates Mississippi and the South and proposes the same campaign platform and nominates the same candidates, I will take the same position then as I took in 1948 when I campaigned in Mississippi, South Carolina, Texas and Tennessee for the States' Rights principles. If the same conditions should come about in 1952 as existed in the National Democratic Convention in 1948, I will take the same position and offer the same leadership as your Governor did in 1948. When I am elected Governor of Mississippi I will be one of my first official acts will be to join with other Southern Governors in a great union of Southern states to preserve democratic government in America.

I shall, as your next Governor, stand as I have always stood for fair treatment of and equal opportunities for our negro population, but I shall never compromise on the issue of segregation. I shall fight for separation of races in our schools and colleges and elsewhere with every ounce of my energy. The courts will eventually force us to either allow negroes in our schools and colleges or we will be forced to provide equal facilities for them. Our moral obligation is evident to all thinking citizens and I believe we should fulfill this obligation without coercion from any source. A program for improvement of the colored race will cost large sums, but if we want segregation we must pay for it.

I want the Jeffersonian Democrats of Mississippi to know where I stand on these vital issues without question or reservation. I am proud of the fact that I am a Jeffersonian, States' Rights Democrat and I am willing to stand up and be so counted. I am proud to base my candidacy for Governor of Mississippi on the basic principles of Jeffersonian, States' Rights Democracy.

At a later date I shall release a detailed platform of objectives for my campaign next year that will deal with many matters within our state of deep concern to all our people.

This Is The Army --- Or So It Says Here

In order to find out what happens to a Mississippi Selectee who had been inducted into the Army under the Selective Service Act, Colonel Herbert R. McGehee and Major Frank Greco of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Service, which is also in charge of the Induction Station for this state, made a trip to Camp Chaffee, Arkansas, last week.

Camp Chaffee, located near Fort Smith, Arkansas, on the Oklahoma border, is an Army Reception Center and Headquarters of the 5th Armored Division, commanded by Brigadier General C. B. Ferenbaugh. It is the first station for selectees after they leave the induction station located here in Jackson. At this station, new recruits get their first taste of Uncle Sam's Army, and as Colonel McGehee stated, "It should be a 'good taste' because on my visit I saw how the men were treated. They are treated as gentlemen and soldiers, not pampered, but given individual attention in order that each one will have an opportunity to do his best while in the service."

The Colonel had high praise for the officers and enlisted men who worked in the center. They are stern, but in a courteous manner, and all are efficient and well trained in their jobs. Neatness was noteworthy, not only of the personnel, but buildings and grounds.

The average length of time at the reception center is four to five days, all of which is spent in processing.

To give an idea of what processing means, the Colonel explained the routine that occurred at the camp. Men leaving the induction station in Jackson have a ten to twelve hour bus ride to the center. The bus unloads at the front entrance of the reception building and thereabouts are taken inside, seated and explained the events that will take place during their stay.

If it has been a few hours since their last meal, they are taken across the street and given a complete hot meal, regardless of the time of day it might be. The Colonel added that the food was excellent and that he ate with the recruits during his visit at the camp.

After "chow" is over, which is completed without "the hurry-up-and-wait" attitude the Army has been accused of, the soldiers return to the reception building for the next processing steps that will take place.

First, the individual turns in all valuables for safe-keeping, for which he is given a receipt in order that he may be sure to get them back when he leaves the building.

As he starts in the line he is issued a towel, a barracks bag and a raincoat, all to be used at some state processing.

Next comes a hair cut, not the "GI" crew cut, but one to the soldier's liking—and not one at all if he doesn't need it.

Then for a shower, a bath for all and the soldier places his clothes in the barracks bag and after the bath puts on the raincoat to wear during the coming physical check (The raincoat is provided in order that the soldier will not be moving from room to room completely nude.)

During the physical check his blood type is taken and he is issued identification tags on which is his name, serial number, and blood type.

His next stop is the supply room where he will draw an issue of clothing amounting to approximately $176.00. Each garment is fitted to be sure of proper size. Those that don't fit are measured and tailored. The boots and shoes are fitted over heavy wool and light socks in order to be sure of a proper fit.

After clothing is received, the recruit dons a pair of fatigues and his new uniforms are taken to the pressing shop, so that when he is assigned to a training unit after his four-day processing, he may leave in a neat, well-fitting uniform.

The processing so far has taken three to four hours and except for eating, has taken place in one building.

Upon leaving the supply room, he is assigned a section leader, who will conduct the activities for the remaining stay at the camp.

Next on schedule is a welcome address by the commanding general of the camp given at a nearby theatre. His speech is followed by a short talk by a member of the Red Cross who stresses one important item, that in the event a soldier is needed at home because of some emergency, his folks should contact a local chapter of the Red Cross which will make all necessary arrangements. A short talk is also made by the chaplain noting all church services available and urging each to write home.

After a good night's rest, aptitude tests are in store for the next day. This is a battery of twelve tests designed to find out how much education a man has and is given in order to assign a man a job that he is qualified to perform. It might be noted that tests are given before any shots or vaccinations and before any training is started so that each may be able to do his best.

In taking the test, if a certain score of a higher bracket is reached on the first three, the soldier is then given a test for Officers Candidate School. If he passes that, he is then urged to attend OCS, but attendance is not mandatory.

After the test comes an interview and council as to potential field of service the individual will enter. Each man is interviewed separately and after consideration of test scores, past experience, the soldier's desires and vacancies in the Army, an assignment to one of the branches of service is made.

Next comes the shots and vaccinations, a discussion of benefits that may be obtained in the service, an explanation of allotments, and the low-price insurance that is available and other administrative matters. Records show that 90 per cent of the personnel are taking out the maximum amount of insurance.

During the time the soldier is not busy processing he is encouraged to participate in all types of athletics that are available, and is taught the basic principles of military courtesy. This about covers the most important details of the time spent at the reception center.

The soldier is then notified of his duty assignment, and he leaves the reception center for basic training somewhere in the United States. The place where he will take basic training is governed by the branch of service he has been assigned.

CLERMONT HARBOR NEWS

MRS. J. G. TREUTEL, Reporter

Have you any news?
If you do I would appreciate it immensely if you would jot it down on a piece of paper and drop it in the little box in the post office. Thanks a lot. Everyone likes to read about his neighbor and the Echo likes to print news about you.

Students Give Thanksgiving Program

The Clermont Harbor school children gave a Thanksgiving program Wednesday, November 22, in the school auditorium. A reading, "Thanksgiving," was given by Leo Roos. A play, "Six Little Housekeepers," was staged by Judy Treutel, Peggy Garcia, Doris Johnson, Ann Bonnacarrere, Ann Proctor and Dianne Carr.

"Thanksgiving stories" were given by the fourth, fifth and seventh grades and current events were given by the entire school.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. McCoy had as their guests on Thanksgiving, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Bundy and Mrs. A. M. Wisner of Long Beach.

The regular service followed by Communion will be held in the Methodist church Sunday evening at 7:30. Rev. R. L. Salley, pastor, will officiate.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Curtis spent last weekend at their cottage on Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Pellham spent the Thanksgiving holidays at their home on Gignard street. They had as their guests their nieces, Royce and Rae Babin.

Mrs. A. D. Mouldous motored to New Orleans to attend the wedding of her niece, Nell M. Guirovich, to Oscar A. Lavie, Jr., at the Holy Name of Jesus church Saturday.

Guests at the Charles Schwartz home this past weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Farenholtz, Mr. and Mrs. Duett, Mrs. Lamoussine and son, Henry, and Frank Lohman.

Mrs. J. P. Rousseau is a patient in Hotel Dieu. Her friends wish her a speedy recovery.
